Therapeutic Education:

A child's education is one of the most important parts of their life, and at Evergreen Education and Therapy, we endeavour to ensure all pupils have access to a bespoke and well-rounded package of holistic education based on the model- Windows on the World. This policy outlines the procedures for admissions. The process used is fair and in-keeping with the obligations of the Equality Act 2010 and the Education Act 1996. EEaT promises to provide all admitted students with a safe environment to grow and learn, both academically and emotionally.

Admissions are taken from funding bodies including councils and schools.

All referrals are considered by the Directors.

Special attention is paid to the needs of each potential client and the ability of EEaT to meet their needs.

Consideration is also given to the needs of existing clients using the service to ensure safety and compatibility for all children.

Children must be in years R to 11 (aged 4 to 16) for therapeutic education and ages 4 - 19 years old for therapy. In certain circumstances children in different age groups will be considered. Adults are also eligible for therapy.

Children must be on a school role and remain on a school role for the duration of their time with EEaT; or Have an EOTAS package under the direction of the Local Education Authority.

Bespoke packages of support are designed for each child up to 15 hours a week in term time.

The Directors will arrange a home visit before a child is accepted.
